

ABSTRACT

A method and apparatus for A set top box (STB) displaying an Electronic Programming Guide (EPG) on a display, and in response to a single selection from a user, transferring a program and auxiliary data related to the program from a first storage device of the STB to a removable storage device.